

REACH Response

United Titanium, Inc. has reviewed Directive 67/548/EEC and is of the opinion that the products provided to your company are not within the scope of the REACH program. We are of this opinion because our products are not within the following categories outlined in Article 2 of the directive:

- (a) - explosive:
- (b) - oxidising:
- (c) - easily flammable:
- (d) - flammable:
- (e) - toxic:
- (f) - harmful:
- (g) - corrosive:
- (h) - irritant:

Nor do our products meet the following definitions of Article 2 paragraph 2 of Directive 1999/45/EC:

- (a) - explosive substances and preparations:
- (b) - oxidising substances and preparations:
- (c) - extremely flammable substances and preparations:
- (d) - highly flammable substances and preparations:
- (e) - flammable substances and preparations:
- (f) - very toxic substances and preparations:
- (g) - toxic substances and preparations:
- (h) - harmful substances and preparations:
- (i) - corrosive substances and preparations:
- (j) - irritant substances and preparations:
- (k) - sensitising substances and preparations:
- (l) - carcinogenic substances and preparations:
- (m) - mutagenic substances and preparations:
- (n) - substances and preparations which are toxic for reproduction:
- (o) - substances and preparations which are dangerous for the environment:.

If you feel our assessment is in error please contact us as soon as possible.

Restriction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS)

United Titanium, Inc. does not use any of the following restricted materials in its products or processes.

- Lead
- Mercury
- Cadmium
- Chromium VI (Also known as hexavalent chromium)
- PBB
- PBDE